ENGLAND. ANOTHER SUEZ CANAL.

London, July 11.—An agreement has been signed between the English government and De Lesseps, providing for construction of the Suez canal to be completed at the end of the year 1888. England lend the canal company eight million pounds at 3½ per cents, redeemable in fifty years. England will endeavor to obtain a fresh concession of land from Egypt, and the extension of the original concession to 50 years. ANOTHER SUEZ CANAL.

sion to 90 years. ARRITRARY ACTION OF THE FRENCH. Gladstone in reply to Northcote, said that when the French occupied Tamalive, Madagascar, and proclaimed a state siege, the British consul was recovering from a serious litness, which the political crisis aggravated. His secretary was arrested in his presence. Admiral Pierre, the French commander, ordered the sick man to leave Taniative within twenty-four hours. The consul died seven hours after receiving the notice. Admiral Pierre also stopped communication between the British mon-of-war, Drynd, which was sta-tioned there, and the shore. The captain was only of owed to make a ver-bal protest. The flags of foreign consals were banted down, and an English mi-sionary named Swan was arrested, and still remains in prison on an unknown charge. Inquiries only elicted the answer that the law must take its course. Gladstone, in conclusion, said: "In answering these painful occurrences, I can only say that we must wait further details. We must also await communications from the French government which the case may require, and which we have intimated that we expect, and which it would be our duty to make similar circumstances." Cheers.

Went Down't e Stove-Pipe.

A lightning bolt struck the chim-ney of the house of W. L. Greenlee at West Denver, Col., and dividing, one part rail down the outside of the house, ripping off the weather-boarding from the roof to the cellar. The other part of the charge went down the stove-pipe, seat ering the cooking mensils in every direction, and then eressed the carpet to a brass rail oppo-site, upon which the sliding door rolled, cutting the carpet in two as with a knife. It set fire to the cloth-ling in a closet and then made a hole turough the floor into the ground.

An Expert on Draw Poker.

This same game of "poker" is no only the most se fuctive, but it is one of the most villainous games of cards extant. Once it gets a hold on your fancy it is next to an impossibility to shake it off. You will sacrifice anything and everything to gratify your love of it. It will make you tricky, selfish, ungrateful, and, in fact, every thing that is mean and contemptible. It is only men of the most resolute nature that it does not make sharnefully dishonest-and how many are there of such men in the world? Here in Washington there are men high in public position and high in society or citizenship, or whatever you have a mind to call it, who give every spare moment of their existence to playing Professor Welckers, of Halte, has made an alarming discovery at Weimar.
